Aus den Klagen der Isis und der Nephthys.

2. Jahrhundert vor Chr.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is densely packed and covers most of the page area.

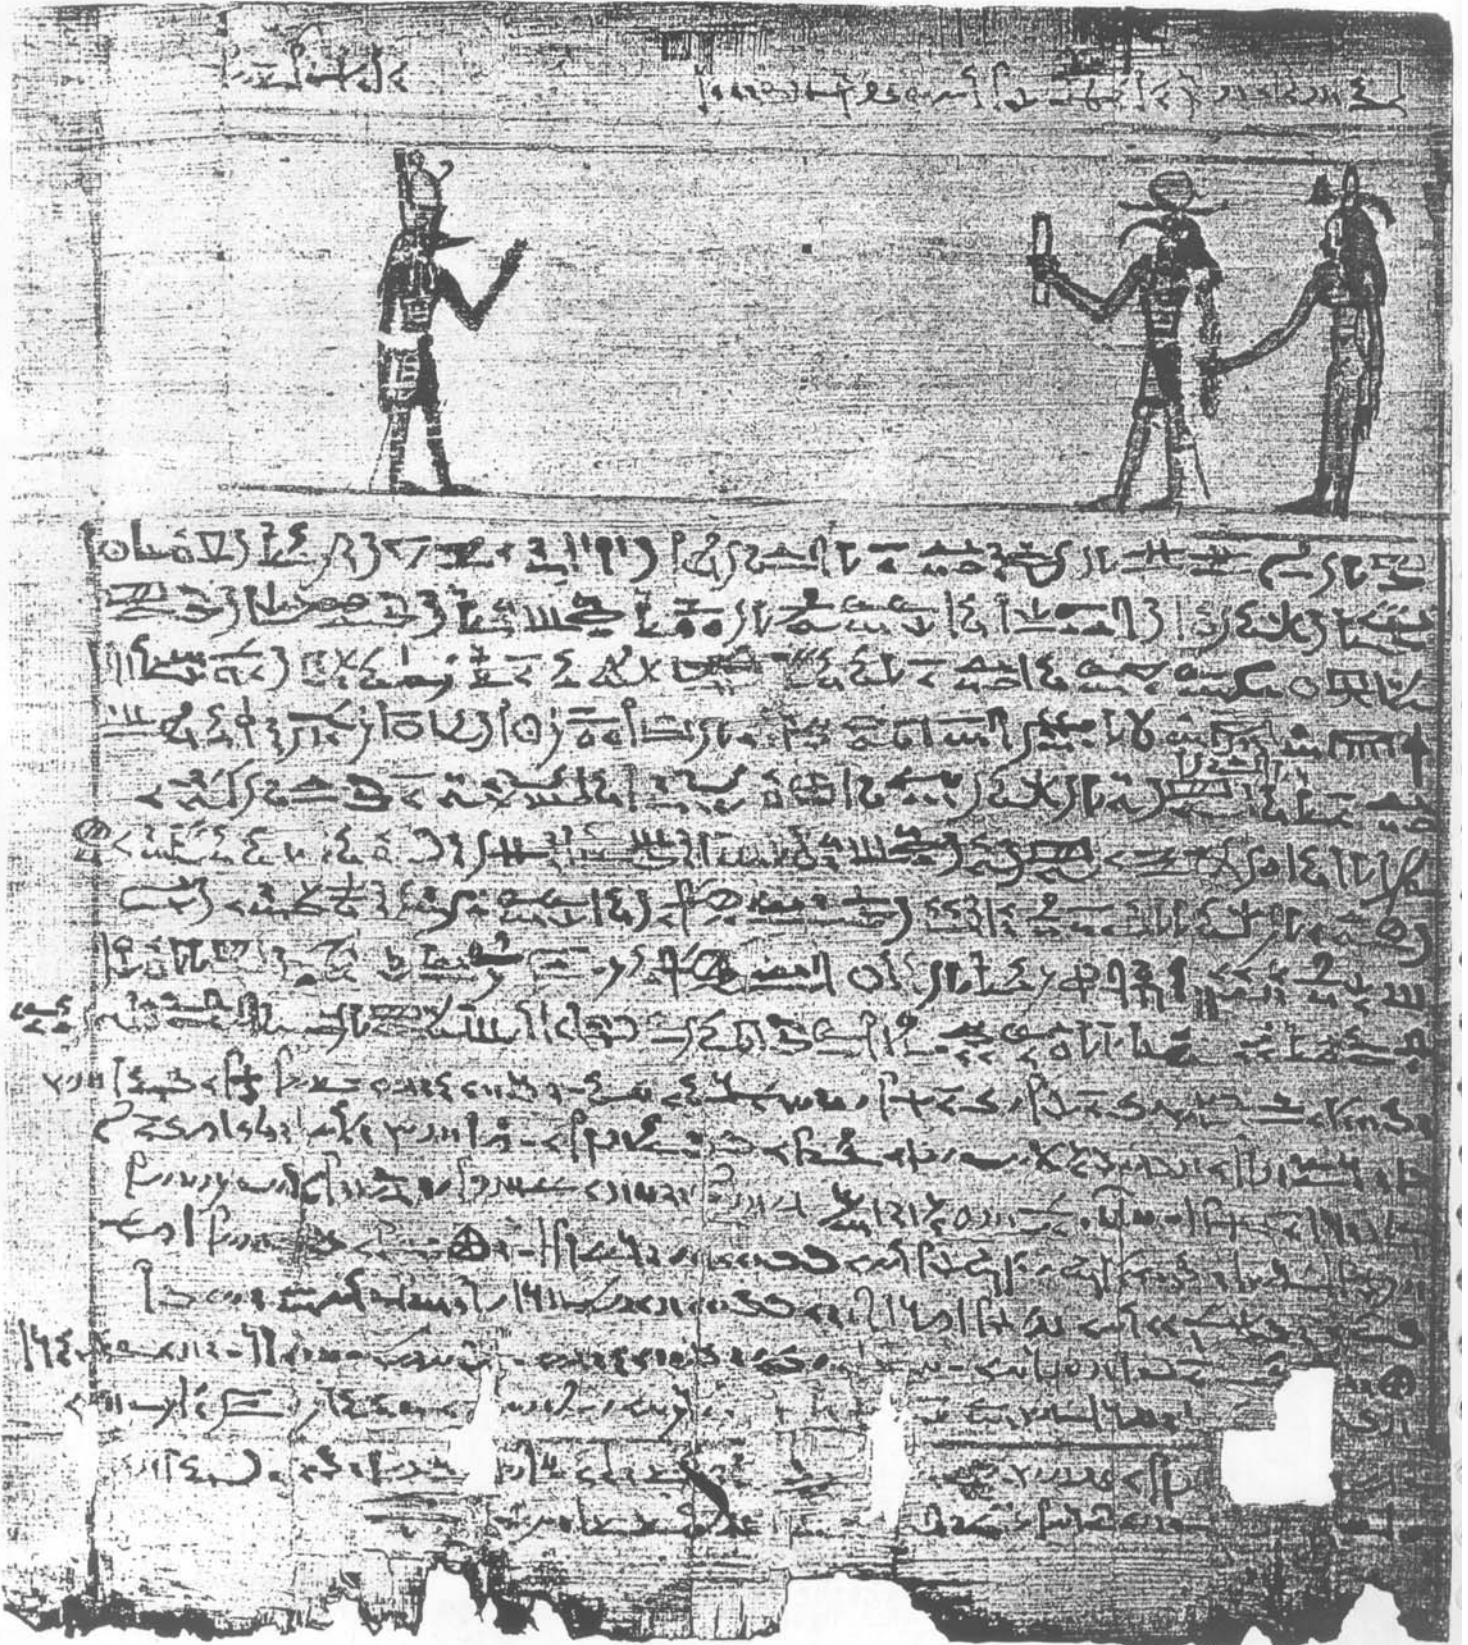

[The page contains approximately 25 lines of text in a highly stylized, cursive script, likely a form of shorthand or a specific dialect. The text is extremely dense and difficult to decipher due to the high contrast and grain of the scan. The script appears to be a form of shorthand used in religious or legal contexts, possibly related to the 'Religiöser Text' label. The lines are closely packed and run horizontally across the page. Some characters resemble letters but are often combined or abbreviated in a way that makes them unrecognizable to modern readers.]
